

Price's Missouri Expedition

September 1864

MAJOR GENERAL
STERLING PRICE

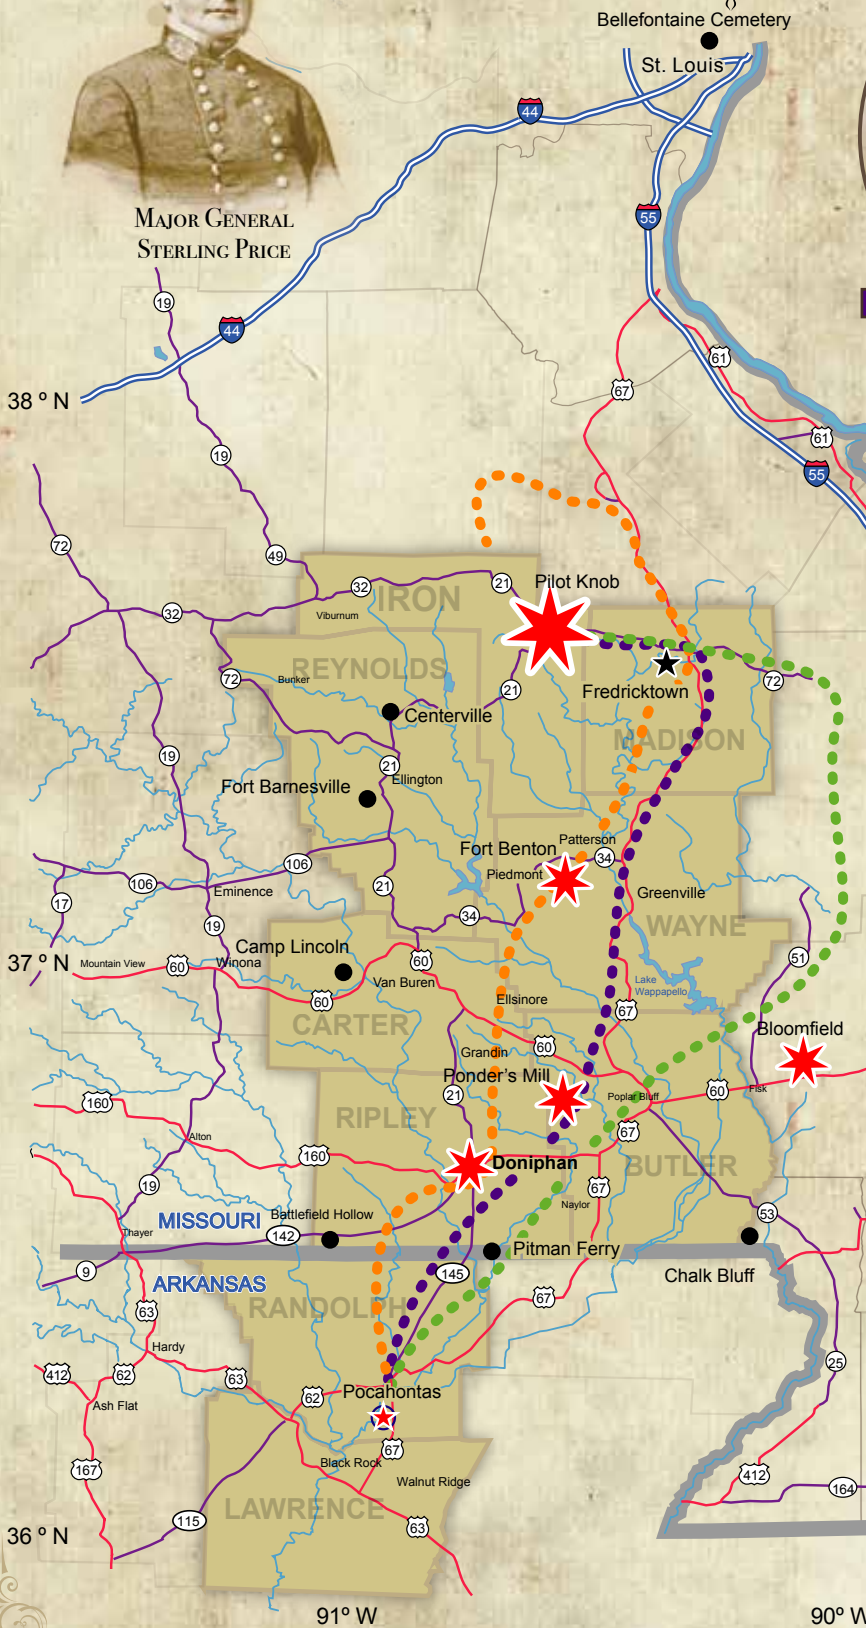

MAJOR GENERAL
JAMES FAGAN

BRIGADIER GENERAL
JOSEPH SHELBY

MAJOR GENERAL
JOHN MARMADUKE

LAST MAJOR CONFEDERATE CAMPAIGN IN A NORTHERN TERRITORY

- ★ Pocahontas, Arkansas - Starting point of Price's Expedition. Location of Camp Shaver and the historic St. Charles Hotel.
- ★ Burning of Doniphan - September 19, 1864: A company of the 3rd Missouri State Militia drove members of Reeve's 15th Missouri Cavalry from town before setting it on fire. Per his official report, Shelby's division arrived to find the "helpless and ill-fated town" in ashes.
- ★ Ponder's Mill - September 20, 1864: Confederate troops caught up with the Union troops that burned Doniphan. Skirmish resulted in 14 Union and 7 Confederate casualties.
- Camp Lincoln - Union garrison
- ★ Fort Benton - September 22, 1864: "The Union garrison retreated hastily, but not before many were captured or killed and all the Government portion of Patterson was destroyed, together with its strong and ugly fort." -Jo Shelby
- Fort Barnesville - Union garrison
- Centerville - Union garrison
- ★ Fredericktown - Where all three divisions came together before advancing to Pilot Knob
- ★ Pilot Knob - September 27, 1864: First major battle of Price's Expedition resulting in 184 Union and 1500 Confederate casualties. It also changed Price's objective from St. Louis to Jefferson City and Kansas City.
- Bellefontaine Cemetery - When Price died in 1867, his friends erected a 30-foot granite obelisk in his memory.

Map Key

- ★ Battle or skirmish in Price's Expedition
- ★ Other related Price's Expedition site
- Other Civil War Site
- — — — — Route of Brigadier General Shelby
- — — — — Route of Major Generals Price and Fagan
- — — — — Route of Major General Marmaduke

